MEMORANDUM TO TEACHERS

The school health program is primarily an educational program. The aim of the Morgan County Board of Education and of the Morgan County Health Department is not for a day, or for a year, but for a longer period. We are not interested in seeing how many children can be protected against typhoid fever or diphtheria or small pox this year, but how much the people can be taught to take advantage of modern preventive medicine, and learn to protect themselves against the ravages of disease.

We are not interested in chasing children in order to stick a needle into their arms. If they haven't sense enough to know what is good for them, we would rather let them wait until they have learned the lesson that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. We want to leave behind us not an enraged and surly child, who goes home planning how he can "get even" with us; but a child who has seen, appreciated, and willingly partaken of the gifts of preventive medicine.

We are aware that the laws of Kentucky, passed by the legislature, provide that every resident of this state shall be vaccinated. This is a wise provision, for it clearly defines our duty as citizens to protect not only ourselves, but our communities against epidemics of this smallpox.

Where the population is unvaccinated, smallpox will sooner or later be introduced and swept through like forest fire. We know this, and we wish to see a law given the respect and obedience that it deserves. But we do not propose to catch and hold anybody to give him his vaccination. There are too many people who want to be vaccinated for us to spend our time trying to force it upon someone who is too ignorant to appreciate its value.

As a trained physician employed by this county and by the state and federal governments in order to serve this county, I had today the experience of attending two schools. In the first school there were three rooms, with an enrollment well over a hundred. These children, almost without exception volunteered to receive their smallpox vaccination, as required by law. There was almost no crying. A few children were fearful, when they found that we did not hurt them, or even scratch their arms, but merely patted the vaccine down with the flat side of a clean needle for twenty-five times, they hushed their tears and helped us count out the twenty-five pats with the flat of the needle.

Then we visited another school. There the children were antagonistic to the whole idea of health service. A number of them threatened to stay away from the building as long as we were there. When they finally were seated in the room, the teacher made no effort to introduce us to them, or to make them see the value of the services we were offering.

I explained to them that we were interested in helping people with tuberculosis, and were offering them the service of giving them the tuberculin test. I showed them a tuberculin test on my own arm, and explained to them the simplicity, painlessness, and value of the procedure.

For all of that, only one-third of the children were willing to receive the service and were antagonistic to it.

Now it costs about $10.00 to put a boy through college and medical school. I don't know just what it costs to train a nurse but it is considerable. In addition to this both the public health nurse and myself have had to have specialized training in the field of public health service in order to qualify for this work.

Here were two-thirds of the children in this school failing to take advantage of the service offered through the wise provision of their local, state, and federal governments.

Why? The answer is inescapable. They had not been properly taught. They had not been made to see the value of preventive medicine. I suspect that there had been too much force used in the past with them, and not enough discipline—too much compelling, and not enough teaching—too much emotion, and not enough reason.

The Morgan County Health Department wishes to issue this memorandum to all teachers for the purpose of urging that they teach the children the value of Preventive Medicine; that they conduct their whole health program with a view to overcome

LOCATING A DAM SITE

If plans which are now being worked out bear fruit there will be a government dam on the Licking River somewhere between here and Farmers in the near future.

Government engineers, working out of Cincinnati, Ohio, have been here during the last week, taking surveys of elevations and making a map of the town showing locations, valuations, and elevations of the various properties.

It is evident that West Liberty will be a deciding factor in determining the location or the height of the dam. The object of the dam will be twofold. First, to serve as a reservoir for the storage of water during flood stages in the river basin, and second, to use the power latent in this immense body of water to generate electricity for the use and convenience of the people up and down the river valley.

Much of the land needed for the main body of the dam already belongs to the government, including the wide river bottoms this side of Farmers.

The probable site of the dam will be near and somewhat this side of Farmers. A distance of about thirty miles by a crow's highway but about twice that far the way the river runs. The extreme height of the dam will back water up to near or quite the town boundary.

SEWING CIRCLE MEETING

Cannel City, Ky.—The Sewing Circle of the Cannel City Church of God met Friday, September 23d with Miss Frances Lewis. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. W. T. Stampler.

Opening hymns were: "Softly and Tenderly" and "The Old Rugged Cross."

The hostess read for the devotional the 106th Psalm.

Mrs. Arthur Gathman led in Prayer and the minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. M. H. Ferguson.

The treasurer, Mrs. J. D. Benton, called the roll and gave a report on what money was taken in and how it was being spent.

The afternoon was spent in piecing quilt squares—24 squares were made.

Those present were: Mrs. W. T. Stampler, Mrs. Bert Morris, Mrs. J. D. Benton, Mrs. Arthur Gathman, Mrs. Allison Lykins, Mrs. J. W. Benton, Mrs. Lonnie Patrick, Mrs. M. H. Ferguson, Miss Gladys Benton, Mrs. Calla Lewis, Mrs. Curt Benton, Mrs. Rebecca Spencer, Mrs. John Benton, Misses Coleen Patrick and Delores Ray Ferguson.

The hostess served delicious refreshments of pineapples, cakes, and cool ade.

After a very enjoyable afternoon we adjourned to meet with Miss Rebecca Spencer, October 17.

A MAYOR ENDS RELIEF

William E. Kane, the Mayor of Woburn, Mass., on September 3, 1938, ordered the names of 15 relief recipients stricken from the welfare rolls after he found them in saloons and taverns drinking.

The Mayor, who several months ago sponsored and then abandoned a cage-for-drunks plan, stated that during a recent visit to ten drinking places he found men and women who not only receiving cash relief but also some who only recently had filed applications for shoes for their children. He declared that he started his tour of the drinking houses with a knowledge of excessive drinking going on in Woburn and that some of it was being done by people who were getting a living out of the pockets of the taxpayer. He announced he would continue his visits and remove from the relief rolls the name of every relief recipient he found drinking.

A truck load from Blairs Mills passed through town Sunday on their way to the annual meeting on Williams Creek. Miss Bernice Holbrook, who attends high school here, joined her home folks.

those prejudices and foes that may stand between these little ones and the valuable services which their government has offered them.

Further, we wish it to be understood that the degree of response and willingness to take avail of preventive medicine which the children show is our best means of judging whether a teacher is doing his or her part in carrying out the HEALTH EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM.

PAULINA CHAPTER INSTALLS

On Friday night, September 16, Paulina Chapter No. 360 installed her new officers for the coming year with beautiful and impressive ceremonies.

The chapter was honored to have Bro. Goebel Ratliff as installing officer. His speech was along the lines of masonry and Easter Stardom and was an inspiration to all.

A lovely adenda was given Sister Lillian Bluff, our retiring worthy matron, and the climax of the evening was when she was presented to our circle of past worthy matrons and received her past matron's jewel.

Bro. Oscar Pelfrey was also presented with a past patron's pin in appreciation of his splendid services during the past year. Reports of committees found our Chapter to be in splendid form.

The newly installed worthy matron, Sister Lillian Bluff, pledged herself to carry on the work of our Chapter to the very best of her ability and asked the support of all officers and members to make hers a successful year.

There were several other interesting features of the evening. A profusion of flowers added to the beauty of our chapter room. The candles were lighted with an appropriate poem. Then refreshments followed and a very enjoyable social hour. The following were the officers installed:

Lillian Bluff, Worthy Matron; Yandal Wrather, Worthy Patron; Curtis Franklin, Associate Matron; Bro. Harlen Murphy, Associate Patron; Barletta Wrather, Secretary; Stella Lewis, Treasurer; Kathleen Franklin, Cond.; Mollie Lykins, Asst. Cond.; Mrs. Brong, Chaplin; Stella Fannin, Marshal; Lula Belle Elam, Organist; Prudy Day, Adah; Elizabeth Elam, Ruth; Lullie Gullett, Esther; Gertrude Nickell, Martha; Jannie Caskey, Electa; Ida Henry, Warden; Ada Cochran, Sentinel.

FIELD WORKER HERE

Mrs. Blanche Carns, Field Representative for Bureau of Vital Statistics of State Department of Health made a survey of birth and death registration in Morgan County this past week. Mrs. Carns discovered that many certificates for 1938 still remain unreported. This she believes is due to people conducting their own burials. It is a law that a death certificate must be filed and a permit secured for burial prior to any disposition of the body, whether a licensed undertaker or the family conducts the burial the death certificate must be filed as required by law.

Failure to regard this law is an offense subject to a fine of from $20.00 to $100.00. Mrs. Carns recently delayed a burial in a neighboring county until the family returned to the place where the casket had been purchased to file the death certificate and to secure a permit for burial.

Mrs. Carns states that this has been a law since 1911 and it seems imperative to have to fine those conducting burials without permits in order to acquaint them with their responsibility in the matter.

There has been a new system of registration set up in all counties in Kentucky where full time health units exist in having only one registrar at the county seat. In Morgan County, Mrs. Leona Rose, clerk of the health unit, has been appointed registrar for Morgan County by the State Registrar, J. F. Blackberry.

During Mrs. Carns' stay here she secured some deputies to co-operate with Mrs. Rose as follows. Four magistrates: Thomas Richardson, Cannel City; C. W. Byrd, Grassy Creek; Wm. Smith, Wrigley; and Clay Wade Bailey, Dingus. Rev. Harlen Murphy also offered his assistance to the work. Blanks for registration use can be secured from these deputies and also from Mrs. Rose at all times.

For Ripened Ones

The Mayor of Monticello, N. Y., had this notice posted on telephone poles lining the town's streets: "Garments commonly known as shorts are banned for all but mothers and ladies of comparable age whose discretion the yearns have ripened."

May Broaden Pensions

Apparently, the prospect is that the Social Security Act will be broadened extensively in order to meet the increasing agitation for more liberal old-age pensions.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

"Propaganda" is the dope sent out by the "other side."

Everybody thinks that the safety device is for the other fellow.

Any town that has a good newspaper has something to brag about.

Add human observation: Few individuals lose time in collecting their pay checks.

Getting out of debt is more a matter of backbone than it is a matter of bankroll.

If you ask us, there ought to be an easier way for children to learn from experience.

People interested in problems might try to find out why those "perfect love matches" often end in Reno.

Planning for business and getting business is different; correct advertising tactics will make the difference.

Well, boys, it is a catastrophe. Here the week is almost over and we don't know what kind of a week it is!

You can go all around the world but you will probably come back to West Liberty to find your opportunity.

Judging from some work crews we have seen, the correct proportion of foremen to laborers is about three-to-one.

Correct this sentence: "I help to build up West Liberty by buying what I want from salesmen and mail-order houses."

It's a good idea to consult your lawyer before getting into a lawsuit, and the same reasoning applies to consulting your doctor.

One reason why society is what it is can be seen when one contemplates the compensation given a football coach and a professor.

Big business may not be so keen on sharing its profits with its workers but when times get slack, they are always willing to let the workers share their losses.

People who complain of the taxes caused by relief expenditures ought to be without jobs or incomes and then they would have something real to complain about.

Good letterheads make a favorable impression, and yet there are businessmen hereabouts who are willing to write their letters on any old scrap of paper available.

Mailing circulars is all right for those who prefer it to newspaper advertising, but if you go to the postoffice, you won't find many copies of the Courier in the wastebasket.

If you are under the impression that average intelligence to day is not an improvement over what it was in, say 1875, look up an old newspaper of that year and read what was printed as news.

We are always glad to have news letters sent in from the various communities where The Courier is read, but the writer must sign his name. No anonymous news letters are published, regardless of what they are about.

ANNOUNCE CANDIDACY

While in town on Monday Virgil Lewis of Lenox announced his candidacy for a place on the Morgan County Board of Education. Mr. Lewis is a farmer and was born and raised in the community in which he now lives. He is keenly interested in the country schools. He has several small children now attending these schools. To be of service to the schools, the teacher and the patrons will be his ambition as a member of the County School Board. Mr. Lewis is a young man, ambitious and a man who is trusted and respected by his neighbors and all who know him.

REVIVAL AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. Lewis W. Martin of Jeff will conduct a revival meeting at the West Liberty Baptist church beginning Monday night, October 10. Services will open every night at 7 o'clock. Bro. Martin is a capable and faithful preacher of the word, and every one is invited to hear him every night of the meeting.

GARBAGE COLLECTION

Arrangements have been made to have the garbage and tin cans, of the citizens of West Liberty, hauled out of town, beginning Saturday, October 1, 1938.

This service has been needed for a long while, both from the standpoint of the health of our community and of the appearance of our town, and we hope every one will take advantage of it.

The small charge of 10c per week, to cover the expense of hauling, will be made. You are requested to buy a month's supply of tickets in advance from the Girl Scouts, who will visit you before the first of every month, to sell you tickets. All tickets must be bought and paid for in advance. RULES: 1. No garbage will be hauled away unless you have a ticket. 2. Hang these tickets outside your back door, so that all the collector will have to do will be to tear off a ticket, as this will save him time and be no trouble to you. 3. All refuse must be placed in baskets and covered pails, to the amount of one large galvanized garbage pail, and placed so that it will be accessible. 4. The collector will not be required to carry off brush or an extra quantity of rubbish without extra pay.

If enough subscribers to this service are obtained, we hope to be able to reduce the cost later on.

This project is being sponsored by the Girl Scout Troop and Troop Committee of West Liberty.

Help clean up your town! Make it a cleaner place in which to live.

FOR FORCE TO PRESERVE PEACE

It is generally assumed that American citizens would not favor the employment of the combined navies of the world as an international peace preservation force, but, just the same, in 1910, Congress passed a resolution authorizing the appointment of a committee to consider just such a proposition.

The commission was also asked to study the use of existing international agencies to limit armaments. The bill seemed to reflect American public opinion before the World War. It was signed by President Theodore Roosevelt, but if the Commission ever got together, nothing could be done to avert the World War which broke out in 1914.

The idea behind the resolution is basically sound. World peace will be secure only so long as sufficient power exists to restrain greed and aggression. Of course, it will not be permanent unless the power for peace is wielded unselfishly. So far, there seems to be no adequate force available in the world for such a purpose.

FARMERS' COLUMN

THE FARM AND HOME

Well-fleshed pullets produce better than thin ones. Feed plenty of grain with the mash. A good source of protein, such as meat scrap or a combination of meat scrap, milk and soybean meal, is necessary to maintain growth and encourage production.

Leave the entire top or fern growth of asparagus standing until dies down in the fall, or even until spring, as this growth helps protect the roots through the winter. Rhubarb also should be allowed to develop good top growth before going into the cold months.

Proper moisture in the air of the storage cellar is necessary to keep apples from shriveling or wilting. An earth floor that is kept damp will generally provide sufficient moisture. Where the floor is concrete, a tub of water will provide moisture.

The feed-egg price ratio is expected to continue favorable to poultry raisers, due both to the prospective large supplies of feed grains and the advancing price of eggs. Chicken prices are not expected to be as good as in 1937.

Serve foods at the evening meal which are easily digested, such as creamed soups, creamed or buttered vegetables, souffles and scalloped vegetables, fruit or vegetable salads, eggs, cottage cheese and simple desserts.

The cheapest way to finish mature turkeys is to allow them to range on green pasture and feed them a scratch grain mixture made up of equal parts of corn, barley, wheat and oats, according to experts of the United States department of agriculture.

CROP-STOCK BALANCE

The importance of a balance between crop production and livestock raising is stressed in a Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station bulletin dealing with farming in the Bluegrass region of the state. The proper fitting together of crops and livestock is necessary to provide steady labor for men and teams and also to produce the largest continuous income, it is pointed out.

The long rotation system practiced in growing burley tobacco involves relatively large acreages of grass and livestock is necessary for the economical use of pasture. Hence, the emphasis placed on livestock, and the factors to be considered in determining the numbers and kind of stock to be raised on a farm.

This 96-page bulletin presents a mass of information about Bluegrass farming, including the production of tobacco, grain, hay and pasture, and all kinds of livestock. Farms studied were located in Fayette, Bourbon, Clark, Woodford, Jessamine, Scott and Harrison counties. Periods covered extended from 1921 to 1929 and from 1932 to 1936.

The purpose of the study was to determine the physical requirements and production obtained for each farm enterprise. In addition, the costs and results were ascertained for each crop and livestock enterprise and for the farm as a unit.

The authors are W. L. Rouse and George B. Byers of the department of farm economics.

WITHOUT A CONSTITUTION

Declaring that the battle for freedom of the press is a battle for democracy and civil freedom, N. P. Duchemin, president of the Canadian Press, recently pointed out that the peculiar thing about freedom of the press in Canada, the United Kingdom and all British countries was that it was "solely but securely based on an unwritten constitution."

Mr. Duchemin asserted that the British Empire is unique in world democracies because freedom of the press isn't written into the statutes. This will be amazing information to some Americans who have begun to think that the only freedom that our people have is based and depends upon the Constitution of the United States. They forget that the Constitution expresses the will and intent of the people themselves.

Our Constitution is a great document because it expresses in written form the aspirations of the American people to enjoy freedom and liberty. However, the Constitution did not present these gifts to the American people. We would have enjoyed them, perhaps, without a written Constitution, just like the citizens of the British Empire now enjoy the freedom of the press.

The courts of our country have more often used the Constitution to defeat than to promote the public welfare for which primarily the Constitution was adopted.

POLITICAL SHIFTS

The trend of recent political events, whether one realizes it or not, is toward a distinct regrouping of the voters of the United States.

Leaders on both sides of the present debate are urging voters to place the good of the country above party considerations. It is a sign of the weakening ties that heretofore have bound voters to their organizations.

We do not profess to know the future and consequently we have no idea where the drift will end. Let us hope, however, that it will move toward well-defined national policies, championed by able and sincere advocates, and that the people of the nation will be able to make an intelligent choice of the courses presented to them.

That is the democratic process. Somehow or other, we believe it will work well in America and prove sufficient to solve our problems.

WASHINGTON NOTES

MISQUOTED

The flurry in diplomatic circles, created by a report from France that Ambassador William C. Bullitt, in a speech at Bordeaux had referred to France and the United States as "united in war as in peace" was ended when a French newspaperman, who sent the report, said that there had been a misinterpretation of the words the Ambassador actually pronounced. Earlier, the correspondent had insisted upon the accuracy of his report.

BUSINESS

While the volume of business activity remains considerably below the level of a year ago, the rate of increase in important lines of industry and trade strengthened in recent weeks. The report of the Department of Commerce for August reveals further expansion in that month, with all major indices averaging higher than in July.

G. O. P. FINANCES

During the first eight months of 1938, the Republican National Committee had an income of $788,183. The committee spent during the same period $794,459. The report reveals that Franklin Waltman, former newspaper man, who supervised party publicity, received $20,000 annually. This is $5,000 a year more than that received by Chairman Hamilton. William Hard, radio commentator, gets $5,000 a year. Marion E. Martin, new director of women's activities, is listed at $8,000 annually.

OVERLAPPING

A conference between State and Federal officials is being conducted in order to take up the question of dividing sources of taxation and reducing overlapping levies. Thirty-six states and the Federal Government levy income taxes. Twenty-four states have sales taxes which are similar to Federal excises on manufacture of automobiles, radios and other items. Twenty-one states and the Federal Government have taxes on tobacco, not counting licenses. In the liquor field, all the states and the Federal Government compete. Some of the solutions suggested are the sharing of the same taxes on a fixed basis, unified collection systems and the standardization of state taxes through Federal action. Economists, it is thought, will result through the elimination of much bookkeeping and the making out of duplicate returns.

SUBMARINES

Efficient air-conditioning is expected to make it possible for submarines to run submerged for much longer periods, thus adding to their effectiveness in attacks or defense. In the U. S. Navy, only the fittest officers and enlisted men are permitted to serve on submarines and it is said only about half of the Navy's personnel measures up to the strict medical requirements for this service.

OVER-SUBSCRIBED

The Treasury offering of $400,000, 000 of two and one-half per cent bonds and $300,000,000 of one and one-eighth per cent notes brought in cash subscriptions aggregating about $7,539,000,000.

HOOVER TO SPEAK

Former President Herbert Hoover plans to discuss public issues in three public addresses in the near future. The first, at Kansas City, on September 28, will discuss the moral foundation of the New Deal Party. The second, at Hartford, on October 17, will debate its effect on representative government. The third, at Spokane, early in November, will explore its economic consequences to workers and farmers. The former President is quoted as using the word "terrible" to describe the Republican practice of entering Democratic primaries, as was reported to have been done in the Idaho Senatorial primary.

RELIEF

The cost of public relief for the needy rose during July to $258,748, 000, the highest total since the Social Security Board began keeping relief records. It should be noted also that the number of relief workers, under the WPA, reached a new high during the week ending August 27, when the total was 3,066,953. According to figures of the Social Security Board, public aid covered 6,500,000 households in July.

STRESS YOUTH

Army officers admitted to the War College in Washington for the General Staff School at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, will be younger in the future. At present, the age limit is 46 years. This year, the limit goes to 44 years, next year to 42 and after 1942 no officer past 40 will be admitted. The idea is to bring more youthful officers into top command posts.

NATIONAL DEBTS

The increasing size of the national debt of this country has caused many citizens deep concern. We are not among those who look lightly upon an enlarged national indebtedness.

At the same time, we are not among those who see disaster inevitably ahead. It is worth recalling that the national debt of Great Britain is larger than the national debt of the United States, although the population of Great Britain is about one-third that of the United States.

Good news first in the Courier.

LENOX SCHOOL NEWS

We had a pie supper here Friday night, September 16. There were several pies and the bidders were pretty liberal. We had a beauty contest which created much excitement. Miss Maxie Caskey won the hose, however, for being the prettiest girl. Victor Black of West Liberty won the socks for being the ugliest man present. Every one enjoyed seeing Jack Arnett of West Liberty win over the other boys in the apple eating contest. The proceeds from our pie supper were (fifty-six dollars and forty cents) $56.40. We were fortunate in securing the two best auctioneers in the country, Rett Brown of Pomph and Chester McGuire of Malone. Plenty of string music was furnished by the Coffee Brothers, Sanford Kelly and Joe Ron Cantrill. We feel that our pie supper was a great success and we wish to thank every one who helped in any way. Our money will be used for the benefit of the school. Our school is planning on making a trip to the Zoo this week.

Miss Noble has been here and given us vaccinations for fever and diphtheria.

The missionary lady visits us each Thursday and tells us many interesting stories. We are always glad to have her with us.

We have added a new black board and several, pretty pictures to our school room. Written by EVELYN ADKINS, ELIZABETH WILLIAMS.

NEW BUSINESS BUILDING

Ground was broken yesterday for a large new business building 33x80 ft. on the Main Street lot owned by Alonzo Elam. The building will be designed mainly for business offices. This is the site on which the post office was located some time ago. The post office was a frame building and now a brick will be erected on the site. The town is in need of more and more buildings. Residences by the dozens should be built and would find prompt renters.

SO DO WE ALL!

An American citizen, in talking the other day, was discussing a foreign people. His criticism was that the foreign race believed it was superior to other nationalities and that it was better than other peoples.

Certainly, such a belief is not sufficient to damn a people. The French believe they are the world's leading people. So do the Germans, the Italians, the Japanese and, be it admitted, the Americans.

Lands in Jail

When a young fellow with a loose tongue and two big fists from the dry town of Mt. Sterling was unable to convince officers here on Tuesday that he was qualified to drive a car safely on West Liberty streets, he landed in the city lockup. When he finally woke up he had somewhat more respect for authority and was able to proceed with his car.

HITLER'S HEART

Adolph Hitler, the German dictator says his heart bleeds for the German people who live outside the borders of Germany. There are nearly 7,000,000 Germans or persons of direct German extraction living in the United States and a large majority of this number would rejoice to get Hitler into a front line trench and give the Czechs an opportunity to do just that to the Hitler heart.
